It is a mid-mountain trek with open landscapes, beautiful views of the Pyrenean chain.

The stages of the first and last day are sporty because they have a significant height difference (900m). On these two stages, children cannot ride on the donkey in the steepest parts.

This circuit is therefore recommended for children aged 7 and over.

The departure is from the farm at Unac. After a good shaded climb, you reach the magnificent site of Chioula. The next day, if the weather is favorable, you rejoice Camurac by the ridges, in open landscape. The next day, as soon as you leave the village, you will discover little treasures of nature: Les Cols, l'Pla du Boum. You can even enjoy a panorama on Montségur Castle;.

You are staying at Comus gîte. Then you will discover the mountain pastures of Prades, during a fairly long stage (5h), but without technical difficulty. You reach Chioula refuge. On the last day, you follow the ridges of Chioula and go down to the villages: Tignac then Unac.

You can also do this tour with a simple rent of donkey , camping for example.
